Newsela creates meaningful learning opportunities for all students, regardless of their backgrounds or abilities.

If you decide to purchase Newsela ELA, Newsela Social Studies, Newsela Science, Formative by Newsela, or our professional learning programs, you may be able to use funding from the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA). Our products meet the required tiers of evidence for most programs within Title I-Title IV.

Every Student Succeeds Act - Title I, Part A

Improving Basic Programs Operated by LEAs

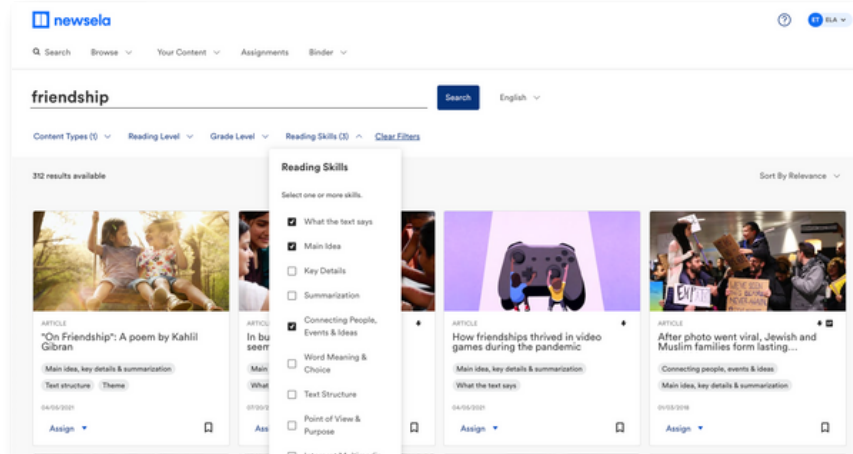

Newsela subject products deliver equity for every learner with content that goes beyond how students access the materials and ensures the materials themselves are accessible.

- All nonfiction content is published at five reading levels, ensuring students at different levels can access the same materials.
- Culturally responsive, current content comes from diverse sources and is more engaging to students of varied backgrounds.
- Newsela ELA, Newsela Social Studies, and Newsela Science are aligned to standards in all 50 states. Teachers can search by standard to find content that supports what they need to teach.
- Student, classroom, school, and district-level reporting lifts the veil on content usage and student engagement.
- Proven to have a positive impact on schools, regardless of their student subgroup composition (see research studies).

Student Support and Academic Enrichment

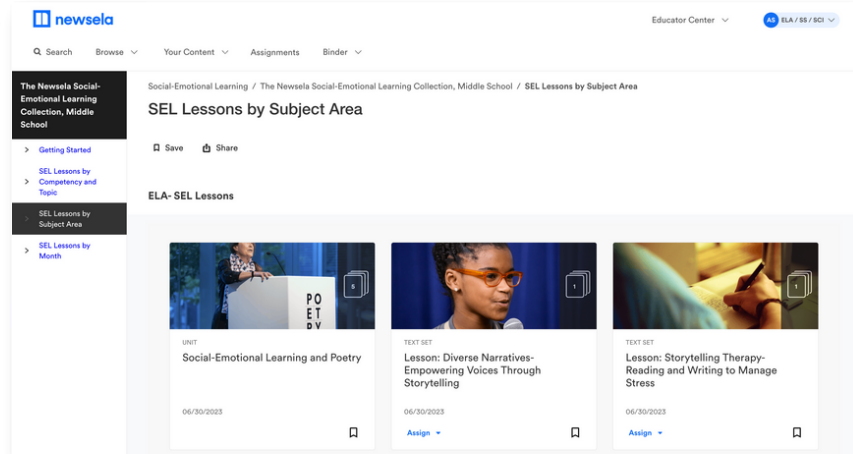

Newsela ELA, Newsela Social Studies, and Newsela Science provide students with a well-rounded education and promote the digital literacy of all students.

- Interactive data sets aligned with cross-curricular texts (available with Newsela Science) allow teachers to integrate data literacy into daily instruction.
- Virtual experiments with PhET (available with Newsela Science) align Newsela texts alongside a PhET interactive simulation. Each topic includes a guided investigation that supports the development of science concepts, skills, and literacy.
- Digital citizenship and media literacy resources (available with Newsela Social Studies) provide students with opportunities to practice the real-world skills they need to think critically in a rapidly changing world.
- Science and engineering projects (available with Newsela Science) guide students through building models and designing engineering solutions.
- Project-based learning opportunities across all subjects encourage students to explore topics relevant and interesting to them, with associated activities like making multimedia presentations and creating social media profiles.

The Newsela Social-Emotional Learning (SEL) Collection, in addition to SEL supports embedded in Newsela ELA and Newsela Social Studies, helps teachers incorporate SEL into core instruction, supporting more safe and healthy students.

- The Newsela SEL Collection includes content and lessons organized by subject, time of year, and the five CASEL competencies.
- Up-to-date content helps explain and illustrate SEL competencies through timely, real-world stories that students can relate to.
- Embedded SEL teaching resources on individual articles and content curations give teachers ideas on how to spark discussion and connection.
- Standalone anti-bias, anti-racism resources and lessons help teachers foster more inclusive, identity-affirming classrooms.
- SEL connections in Newsela ELA and Newsela Social Studies help teachers weave SEL into content-area instruction.
